Religion And The Decline Of Religion and the Decline of Magic is a very long book of non-fiction. Its original purpose was to explain some of the belief systems that were current in sixteenth and seventeenth-century England but which are mostly no longer believed today – things like astrology, witchcraft, magical healing, ghosts, and fairies. Religion and the Decline of Magic: Studies in Popular ... Membership in religious bodies has declined from more than 75 percent to 62 percent. And the number that gets all the attention is the “nones,” the Americans who claim no religion. That’s now 25 percent, compared to just 5 percent in 1960. It’s hard to see that trend reversing with the unprecedented disruption of COVID-19. Promise and Peril: The Decline of Religion in America First we can look at the cycle of change in religion which seems to follow the 309.6 year cycle which is, of course, the 8.6-year frequency. The second is to look at the derivative of the 8.6-year which produces a target for a major collapse in religion, which is underway at this time, by 2033. The Decline & Fall of Religion? | Armstrong Economics But this decline is much sharper than the decline of 1960s and 1970s. Church attendance and prayer is less frequent.
